

Northgate Primary and Nursery School Equality and Accessibility Policy June 2021

1. Statutory Context

In 2010 the Equality Act replaced all existing equality legislation such as the Race Relations Act and the Disability Discrimination Act. The Act provides a single, consolidated source of discrimination law. One of the implications for us is that schools need to carry out accessibility planning for disabled pupils. These responsibilities are exactly the same duties as existed under the Disability Discrimination Act and have been replicated in the Equalities Act 2010. Further, from September 2012, the reasonable adjustments duty for schools and education authorities includes a duty to provide auxiliary aids and services for disabled pupils. The decision to bring this duty into force was taken by the Department for Education after a public consultation, with a positive response to its introduction without additional regulation from the majority of respondents.

The reasonable adjustments duty is owed to disabled pupils, as defined in the Equality Act 2010. The Act states that a pupil has a disability if he or she has a physical or mental impairment that has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on his or her ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. Physical or mental impairment includes sensory impairments such as those affecting sight or hearing.

2. Key Objectives

The objectives of this plan are to:

- ✓ Ensure that everyone is treated fairly and respectfully
- ✓ Develop everyone's potential as unique individuals
- ✓ Recognise that people have different needs and we understand that treating people equally does not always involve treating them the same
- ✓ Develop an awareness of self-worth in order that pupils will become responsible and self-disciplined members of society
- ✓ Ensure that no-one experiences less favourable treatment or discrimination because of their:
 - age
 - a disability
 - ethnicity or national origin
 - gender
 - gender identity (they have reassigned or plan to reassign their gender)
 - marital or civil partnership status
 - being pregnant or having recently had a baby
 - religion or beliefs
 - sexual identity and orientation
- ✓ Ensure that we as a school are meeting our statutory duties
- ✓ Monitor our provision to ensure that it accords with the changing needs of our pupils and staff

- ✓ Ensure that reasonable adjustments are made as necessary
- ✓ Take positive steps to ensure that disabled pupils can safely and fully participate in the curriculum provided by our school, and to allow them to enjoy the other benefits, facilities and services that the school provides for pupils.
